COUNTIES AND COUNTY SEATS

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Recent emphasis on the importance of local governments has increased the need for information on county offices. Since there are 3,104 county or county-type governments in the United States, reaching the appropriate official can be difficult and time-consuming. Therefore, THE AMERICAN BAR has added a reference section called COUNTIES AND COUNTY SEATS.

This listing enables the user to reach quickly and efficiently any of the major elected or appointed county officials, such as members of the county commission (also called county council or board of supervisors), county clerk (clerk of court, circuit clerk, chancery clerk, clerk-auditor), sheriff and treasurer. Additionally, many counties have registers of deeds, assessors, coroners, judges and attorneys. To write to any county official, use the office title followed by the mailing address provided herein.

For all states, the selected telephone number gives readiest access to any information needed. In some cases, this is a county courthouse switchboard number; in others it is the office of the county commission, the county clerk or the county judge. In all cases, numbers are clearly identified.

In compiling these addresses, only primary source materials were used; i.e., information published by the states or by county associations. Where possible, two or more sources were consulted, and the most recent available material was selected. We believe that this information will prove to be a useful and time-saving reference for our readers.

The Letters "W.S." signify membership of the Society of Writers to the Signet. In early times the Writers to the Signet were the officials who acted as Clerks in the Office of the King's Secretary: they were engaged in conducting the private correspondence of the Sovereign and in the preparation of public and private documents and, as the Signet (the King's own Seal), which was used for public as well as private matters, was the badge of the Secretary's Office, they became known at a very early date as "Wryttaris to the Signet" and were recognized under that name.
